EVIDENCE GOOD, FINDS JURY.

Exhibit in Blind Pig Case Disappears Under Critical Examination.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LA GRANDE (Or.) Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twelve good men and true, comprising the jury in a blind-pig case on trial here, responded with alacrity today to a suggestion that the jury make sure it actually was whisky that had been sold, by sampling exhibit A. "And when the sampling process was concluded nothing remained of exhibit A but an empty bottle." La Grande is "a dry town" since the last local option election. Ralph Atkinson was the alleged blind-pig keeper. He has been conducting a so-called soft-drink dispensary. The trial is not yet concluded.

Witness in a case before Police Judge Hayward, James Connell, for the past fifteen years deaf and dumb, and not known to have made even an articulate sound, gave spoken answer to a question asked him in the sign language.

Spectators in the courtroom were astounded when Connell spoke, and for a couple of minutes the trial court proceeded to show great astonishment.

Connell frequented bowling alleys where gambling was supposed to take place. When asked how many rooms existed behind the bowling alleys that were converted into cardrooms, Connell said "Two." Last evening friends endeavored to make Connell speak again, but he found it impossible.

AWAY WITH CHINAMAN.

Pretty White Girl at Stockton Drives from the City Jail With Mongolian.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
STOCKTON, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A white girl, 22 years of age, an unusually pretty girl of 22 years, drove away from the City Jail in a carriage with a wealthy Chinaman, who had just deposited bail for her, the Leon Ling case was recalled by many white people who saw the pair depart. The police have been making an effort to drive the girl out of the city, as she lives in Chinatown. A charge of vagrancy was placed against her and she was released on $50 bail, advanced by the Mongolian. The girl was called Miss Hallway was not in court and her bail was forfeited. She was immediately arrested and the Chinaman put up $100 bail as soon as he learned she was in jail. He also went to the prison to get the girl, who demanded that he get a back and he complied with the order. She dropped leisurely in the rushiest and drove away apparently happy. Later in the day her bail was declared forfeited and in all probability another effort will be made to drive her out of the city or jail.

BONANZA PROVES EXTENSIVE.

Famous Tighner Gold Vein Discovered in Forest City, on Opposite Side of Hill.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DOWNTOWN, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is claimed that the famous Tighner vein, discovered at Allentown by H. L. Johnson, has been discovered in Forest City, on the opposite side of the hill, into which the Tighner shaft was sunk. The discovery is claimed to have been made in the South Fork tunnel, and the ore is reported of the same nature and richness as that taken from the Tighner, which is now considered one of the richest for miles around. The property is owned by Southern California people, and Fred W. Kuhfeldt of Forest City is at the head of the project. The strike may develop into one of the biggest ever made in the Southern California gold fields. The ore is over a mile long, and several ledges have been struck in it.

MRS. COLLINS FREE.

Jury Acquits Slayer in Portland, But She Must Now Face Sanitary Commission.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Not guilty was the verdict rendered late this afternoon in the case of Mrs. Kate Collins, charged with having murdered her husband, Dr. Roy A. Collins, on July 24 last. The jury found that the woman was insane when the deed was committed. Mrs. Collins, well past 50, had married Dr. Collins, twenty years younger, after an ardent courtship by the doctor. Mrs. Collins possessed considerable property. It was shown that much of this had passed to Dr. Collins after the marriage. Then younger women began to take much of Dr. Collins' time. Finally he told his wife he would live with her no longer. "I could not let him leave me so, for I loved him so," Mrs. Collins placed after the tragedy, "So I shot him." It was the old story of an old wife who had been deceived by a younger man. Mrs. Collins will be tried for insanity.

GREAT SULPHUR MINE.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
RED BLUFF, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The San Francisco Sulphur Company, owning plants in San Francisco and Berkeley, has sent Walter Berk, a German expert, to Mount Lassen, fifty-five miles from here, to examine the Suptan sulphur mines. This is the second examination to be made this year of this extensive property, and the company investigating is anxious to prove to its own satisfaction that the sulphur deposits can be worked successfully as all its raw material is now shipped from Japan. The mines are very favorable and the building of the Goose Lake Southern Railroad will give transportation facilities within eight miles of the mine.

BOLT FROM ASSOCIATION AFTER SIZZLING SESSION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Water Conservation Association, organized by President Frances Cottle of the Riverside Water Company, in connection with the Tri-county Water Conservation Association, held a hot session in the offices of the Riverside Water Company at Riverside today. It ended in the San Bernardino county members walking out of the meeting, as a preliminary to the withdrawal of this county from further participation in the Riverside Water Company's plans in the San Bernardino watershed.

THOUSANDS STAKED IN GREAT POKER GAME AT CARSON CITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the strongest poker games that has been played in Carson City in years is in progress in a local cardroom, and has been in progress for thirty-six hours. Some of the players have been playing for weeks. The game is a high-stakes game, and the players are all experienced. The game is a high-stakes game, and the players are all experienced. ## MYSTERY PARTLY SOLVED.

Witness of Fight Between Dead Man and Four Assassins Gives Police a Clue.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The mystery surrounding the death of a man believed to be John Frederick of Raton, N. M., was partially cleared up today, when E. C. Richards reported to the police that he had witnessed a fight between the dead man and four others Monday night, which ended in the death of Frederick. When the body was found Tuesday, with the throat cut, the police believed it a case of suicide. After they had heard Richards' story they arrested Harry Boyle and Joseph Lane, two criminals living near the scene of the murder. The police charge that both men were fellow-members with Frederick of a gang of vagabonds, and that the dead man had turned traitor.

TO LOWER RATES.

ARIZONA BENEFITS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 14.—By an amicable adjustment between the Arizona Railway Commission and the traffic officials of the railroads concerned, a reduction of 2 to 4 per cent. will be made effective January 1, 1910, on all class freight rates between Phoenix and the Arizona coast. The reduction in commodity rates will be made at the same time. The local rate of the Arizona and New Mexico Railway between Lordsburg and Clifton, one of the connecting lines that completes the El Paso-Clifton line, will also reduce rates 15 to 20 per cent.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Water Company Dissolves.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Application for dissolution was filed today by the Sacramento County Water Company, which was incorporated in 1902, with a capital stock of $2,000,000, and headquarters in this city. The dissolution of the company was decided upon by the stockholders on September 27.

Embezzler Released.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—John Hood, former treasurer of the District Council of Carpenters, who was convicted of having embezzled $100 from the council, was released today on probation by Judge Cahan. Hood had restored a part of the sum, and signed a contract to refund the balance in monthly payments.

Closes a Bank.
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—State Superintendent of Banks Anderson today placed the Japanese-American Bank of this city in charge of a representative of his office, because it had failed to increase its cash reserve, and to obtain more securities for loans made. It had been so directed on its examination about two months ago. The bank may reopen, if the stockholders can do as they are required, otherwise it will be put into liquidation.

Suicide Her Hobby.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—"Gally" Kate Powers, whose chief object in life is to seek death, made her forty-third attempt at suicide today. She attracted a throng on the streets by waving aloft a chloroform bottle and announcing that she was going to drink the poison. Last Sunday the woman tried to kill herself in another manner.

Fickert Loses Recount.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Francis J. Henry was sustained today as the candidate of the Democratic party for District Attorney at the coming municipal election, when the recount demanded by Charles Fickert, Republican and Union Labor nominee for the same office and Henry's only opponent, was completed. The recount resulted in a gain of sixty-four votes.

WASHINGTON.

SPIRITS WARN MINISTER WU.

Great War for China Is Predicted.

Medium Speaks of a Crisis Ahead.

Voice from Former President McKinley.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Dr. Wu Tingfang, who is about to retire from the post of Minister of China to the United States, pursued with further last night his personal investigation into the occultic mystery of spiritualism as demonstrated by Washington spiritualists.

His first experience occurred last Sunday night at a public meeting where an anonymous Chinese spirit was described to Dr. Wu by a "trance medium" as hovering in the distinguished diplomat's immediate vicinity. Last night he went again, this time to a smaller séance at a private home. The woman medium who officiated brought to him messages purporting to come from the late President McKinley, who was an intimate friend of Dr. Wu, and also from the minister's own mother. The latter was the more startling, because apparently delivered in the Chinese language.

These messages are claimed by the spiritualists to be brought to the medium in trance by the spirit of a sixteenth-century Indian, under whose "control" she speaks broken English, yet the conversation between Dr. Wu and the medium, while ostensibly under this "control," was somewhat extensive, lasting fully five minutes and seemed to be in the Chinese vernacular, questions and answers intelligible to the audience seated back and forth with considerable freedom.

There was very evidence that the diplomat perceived under the communication which apparently appeared to come from the spirit of Dr. Wu's own mother. It was asserted that the medium and her "control" were both absolutely ignorant of the Chinese language.

TROUBLE AHEAD.
Before the conversation between Dr. Wu and the medium, purporting to convey messages from the martyred President, the woman in her "trance" had told Dr. Wu that her "control" foretold terrible things for China, in which the distinguished diplomat would occupy a place of great importance and influence, and it was in connection with this prediction that she brought what was claimed to be a communication from the former President, expressing the earnest desire for peace. When the Indian spirit told Dr. Wu that what she foretold in the future in connection with the Chinese empire, she said, first of all, was "much fighting" in the faraway country from which he had come. His active hand was preparing already for a mortal struggle. It was building signs of war, Dr. Wu would be violently associated in this conflict, and would see an office of great importance.

FORMER PRESIDENT NEXT.
Shortly after this the medium said there came to her a spirit, a friend of the Minister's, who was not one of his countrymen, but an American. This spirit gave to the medium the name of "William" and finally after some hesitation she uttered the last name as "McKinley." The "control" remarked that the spirit had left this earth eight years ago. Assuming a dignified attitude, the medium bowed respectfully to Dr. Wu, and in a deep, clear masculine voice, said:

"How do you, my friend? I am only for peace. Are you not? Yes," said the Chinese statesman, "I am for peace always." "I am sure you will do all you can to prevent this great war, my friend, and I, too, will continue to work for peace," said the medium.

Dr. Wu was so astounded to assume his characteristic role of rapid-fire interrogatory and failed to question the spirit of the former President.

CAPT. LEE WITHDRAWN.
GOES BACK TO HIS REGIMENT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Capt. Pittsburgh Lee, of the Seventh Cavalry, one of the military aides to the President, has been detached from that duty and will, after his present leave of absence expires, join his regiment.

Capt. Dickinson P. Hall of the Marine Corps has been appointed a member of the national board for the promotion of naval officers in place of Lieut.-Col. Henry C. Hallock, assistant adjutant and inspector, relieved.

HIGH-SALARIED JOB TO LET.
NOW FOR POLITICAL SCRAMBLE.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—A high-salaried appointment, open to all President's aides, is expected to be that of Panama Canal Commissioner, to succeed former Senator Joseph C. S. Blackburn, who for several years has been at the head of the Department of Civil Administration in the canal zone. The position pays $14,000 a year. Mr. Blackburn has not yet formally tendered his resignation, but officials here acquainted with his intentions say there is no doubt that he intends to do so, as he has decided to return to his Kentucky home to live. The commissioner left for New York a few days ago.

OBITUARY.

Detroit Draws Even in Sensational and Thrilling Contest Which Is Won Only After Last Man Is Out in Ninth Inning—Final Rally and Defense Causes Injury of Three Players.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Oct. 14.—Detroit kept in the great fight for the world's baseball championship by defeating Pittsburgh, 5 to 4, today, in a battle full of sensational and thrilling situations, and tonight the two teams are tied, with three victories each. The seventh and deciding game will be played here Saturday.

A fear-inspiring rally in the ninth inning by Pittsburgh was stopped after one run was scored, but three Detroit players were injured in stemming the rush of Pittsburgh runs. Tom Jones, the Detroit first baseman, was the most seriously hurt. His neck and spine were injured in a collision with Wilson at first base and this resulted in Pittsburgh scoring its run of that session. Charles Schmidt, the catcher, was washed upon the right leg in blocking Abstein off the plate in the final inning.

The play that finished the threatening rally of the National League champion resulted in George Mullan being injured when Wilson slid into the base. Mullan was hit on the head by Wilson's bat as he was sliding into the base. Mullan was carried from the field unconscious. He recovered consciousness in the clubhouse. He was taken home in an ambulance and it is virtually certain he will not be able to play in Saturday's game.

Schmidt, it is thought, will be able to play, and there is no doubt that Mullan will be in the decisive battle.

CRAWFORD AT FIRST.

The Jones accident occurred in the shifting of Crawford to first base. D. Jones, who came in to bat, hit the ball to center and Mullan slid into the lead by smashing out three runs on four successive hits of Mullan in the first inning. Mullan, who became invincible until the ninth, was weakened enough to get into a dangerous situation, only to get back himself by another marvelous exhibition of blocking when he was hit by Wilson's bat.

The ninth-inning rally of Pittsburgh seemed with some suspense and dramatic incidents. At one time a single would have won the game and a double would have put Pittsburgh in the lead.

Pittsburgh went to bat with a score of five to three again. It is the last inning. Mullan started with a single to right and Abstein put two runs in the same place, sending Mullan to second. Wilson placed a bunt in front of the plate and Schmidt hit it to first. Mullan, who stole second, and Bush drew another base on balls. Cobb hit a home run to center for two runs, but the collision with Wilson caused Jones to lose the ball, and the scoring and Abstein moving to third.

The delay occasioned by Jones' injury gave Mullan a hard-earned opportunity to recover his balance. Gibson grounded to Crawford, who was out. Mullan hit a single, and the star batter made a great stop and threw to the plate. Abstein was out when Schmidt blocked him off the plate and tagged him, but the Detroit catcher was badly shaken. He was taken home in an ambulance, and few in the crowd knew that he had been injured.

MULLIN IN THE FIELD.

Manager Charles Mullan was taken to the hospital. With Wilson on second and Gibson on first, a hit by Abstein meant a tie score at least. Here is where Mullan made himself another name in the Detroit baseball hall of fame. Abstein was a stubborn batter and it required nearly everything Mullan had to strike him out.

On the third strike Mullan tried to steal third, but was caught. Schmidt to Mullan, ending in a game-winning victory for Detroit. The crowd rushed upon the field and the players were settled about by the job of cheering Detroit supporters and fans to shake their hands. An ant was made to carry George Mullan off the field, but the big pitcher saved his admirers.

Today's wonderful game has set Detroit baseball mad at the city. Every one in the city believes Detroit will win the world's championship.

The winning interest in the series was clearly shown by the fact that only 10,535 persons sat in the game. The receipts of the day were $12,575. Of this the National City commission will receive $1,257.50 and each club owner $5,658.75. The total attendance for the six games is 57,135. This is an average of more than 22,000 fans a game, a record for the world's championship series. The total receipts are $165,625.50.

WAGNER'S STRIDING.

Hans Wagner played a marvelous game in the field, but made only one hit in four times at bat. Mullan, Schmidt and Bush were the bright stars for Detroit. Mullan's wonderful pitching, after he had been unmercifully hammered in the first inning, was a revelation to the operators.

The ninth opened with three safe hits in succession by Pittsburgh, but again Mullan stopped his hard-hitting opponents before they could reap any advantage from his short lapses.

One of the most sensational plays of the game was a double play made by Schmidt and Wagner in the sixth inning. With Mullan on first, Abstein hit a high foul, which Schmidt caught with his back to the field. Miller started for second after the catch, but a wonderfully fast throw by Schmidt and a great one-handed catch and sweep backward by Bush caught Mullan off the base. The Pittsburgh man had made a desperate lunge. Schmidt played a fine game all the way and saved Mullan two or three wild pitches by his marvelous catches.

It appeared dark for Mullan and Detroit in the first inning. Byrnes singled to left and Wagner went to third on a hit by Leach. Clarke singled to left, scoring Byrnes and sending Leach to second. Mullan pitched to left and Leach and Clarke scored easily.

Mullan then steadied and Miller was out. Wagner went to third on a hit by Leach. Clarke singled to left, scoring Byrnes and sending Leach to second. Mullan pitched to left and Leach and Clarke scored easily.

HARRIS DEAD ROBBER.

It was to the effect that the dead man was not Harris. This brought great cheer to the sufferers. But when darker messages came later, the careful guardians concealed them, fearing their effect.

LOVED AND FORGIVEN.

No man who chose the great White Way and deserted a happy home was ever blessed with a more forgiving mother and wife than was Harris. They believed in him, they hoped for him, and yet they feared. It might all be summed up in the simple statement that they loved him.

When he suddenly disappeared in the early part of September, leaving a trail of worthless checks, they set to work to try to avert from him the consequences of his rash acts.

Day by day they hoped for some single word from him, telling where he was, in order that they might notify him that he was still dear to them and would be welcomed home. But no message came until about three weeks ago. He said he was in New Orleans. His wife was filled with joy. She expected him to be home in a short time. He gave no address to which she could forward him a single word of love.

Harris was married in the South ten years ago. His bride was a Tennessee girl, coming from one of the best families in the State.

Willis is convinced that the dead man is Harris. "The identification will leave no loopholes of hope for the family if a scar is found under the chin of the man who the police arrested in Chicago," said Willis.

next day our acquaintance began. "We were having a little supper at Levy's cafe. As I remember, Miss Dale, my chum, and Miss Nelson, Mr. Moore, who plays the part of the Gibson man, and another man, whose name I don't remember just now, but who lives in Los Angeles—a friend of Mr. Moore's. I believe—were in the party."

"IN WALKED LAMAR." "We were having a good time, and probably had been in the place about fifteen or twenty minutes, when I saw Lamar. He came by us and sat down in a corner of the cafe. Our Los Angeles friend—I believe his name was Scales, or something much like that—got up when he saw Lamar come in and went over and spoke to him. "In a few minutes he returned, bringing Lamar with him. Lamar was introduced all around, and then began our acquaintance. I wish to say right here that our friendship has been absolutely without suspicion. If he was married I did not know it then, and I am not sure I know it now."

"The company was in Los Angeles two weeks, and then we laid over a week before we started East. I saw a good deal of Lamar those days. "We were mostly at the cafe after the show. He seemed a dandy fine fellow, and I liked him. That's all there is to it."

"We took a good many rides in his machine. He had a great big car, a Buick, and he had something around it. One day he brought around a friend of his, a peach of a fellow. His name was Capt. Beauregard. It seems that they were great friends—he and Lamar."

"Capt. Beauregard—I think his wife was in Europe at the time—also had a machine. It was a runabout. I took my chum Miss Dale, while Lamar took me in his motor. It's impossible to tell how good a time we had there in Los Angeles. It was a dandy time and we had a dandy time."

"I GAVE HIM PHOTO. "Well, when the time came for the company to push on east on its schedule, we parted. I gave him a picture of myself and he put it in his watch. "Finally after several stops we landed in Chicago. We got here about a week ago last Monday. We supposed we were going on at the Haymarket and had to lay over a week. We opened on Monday of this week at the Majestic. "I haven't any more than a rabbit where Lamar went to, or what became of him. The first day we were here I was sitting in the stage at the west side of the stage at the Majestic, at the afternoon performance. "Capt. Beauregard came in our box and said: "Minnie, do you know who is here?" "It's Harris."

"I guess Lamar had looked us up and found that we were booked to begin here on that day. At any rate he seems to have arrived in Chicago from Washington on that day."

"Lamar and I went out to dinner that night. We went over in a 'taxi' to the Majestic and had dinner. From time until last Sunday night—the last time I saw him—I was with him every day, and had dinner with him every day."

"SHE SEES DEAD FACE. "Miss Harrington was taken in an automobile to Highland Park at midnight, to look at the body of the bank robber. With her were Miss Dale, a member of the theatrical company, and a reporter. They reached the morgue a few minutes after 1 o'clock. "The backroom of the undertaker's establishment, lighted with a single gas jet, the corpse lay, covered with a sheet. The covering was drawn back as Miss Harrington stepped forward. "That is Lamar," said Miss Harrington, speaking in almost a whisper. "Then she stepped away and the undertaker pulled up the sheet covering the face. She hurried to the automobile holding to Miss Dale's arm. "I knew it was Mr. Harris before I came, for I could not have been mistaken in the description of him," she said. "I do not see how he could have gone such a thing. "Still she shed no tears. "She did not quote Kipling. Perhaps she never heard of 'The Vampire.' "A fool there was and he made his prayer. "Even as you and I. "To a rag and a bone and a hank of hair, etc."

"Chapter in Sacramento. "SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lamar Harris' downward career had one of its chapters in Sacramento. He came here several weeks ago on a tour of inspection. "The Secretary of State's office, he said, his winning ways made him many friends. He could not win here, he said, he might lose $20 in a little game with four or five prominent citizens of Sacramento, and afterward borrowed money to get home on, insuring that the lender accept a check. The check came back dishonored, to the intense surprise of Harris' friends in New York City. Harris' friends in New York City, who insisted that there must be some mistake. But further inquiry develops the story of his trouble at San Bernardino."

"I had been asleep just an hour," he said, in telling of it incident. "When the watchman woke me up and said I would have to get out, as he was going home and the boss would be there in a short time. It's great sport hunting for a place to lay your head when there is none to be found."

"He disappeared from Los Angeles on September 2. He was traced from here to Kansas City. Then his trail was lost until he wrote from New York the next day the word of his tragic end."

"There was a great contrast between the life he led shortly after being admitted to the bar and the year preceding the climax of his meteoric career. He enjoyed a lucrative practice, partly because of the reputation of his father, and partly on account of his own brilliance. It was estimated that twelve months ago his income was at the rate of about $15,000 a year."

"INDIFFERENT. "NO TEARS FOR THE CORPSE. "ACTRESS CALMLY TELLS STORY OF FRIENDSHIP. "Shows no Apparent Regret at Death of the Man Who, She Asserts, Gave Her 'A Dandy Good Time and Was a Dandy Good Fellow'—She Goes to Morgue to View Body of Harris."

"BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. "CHICAGO (Ill.) Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Harrington was found at the Wellington Hotel. She was dressed in a plain, blue silk shirt-waist and blue skirt, which set off her brunette complexion in a very attractive way. She did not cry as she related her story. Sitting calmly on a chair she told her story, with neither affection, excitement or apparent regret. "I met Lamar in Los Angeles last August—about the second week of the month," she said. "I never had seen him or heard of him before. I think it was about the second day we were there. We got in Monday, and the

ANOTHER. GIVES MOTIVE FOR ROBBERY.

WOMAN OF "UNDERWORLD" TELLS WHY HARRIS STOLE.

Declares That Brilliant Young Attorney of Los Angeles Begged Her to Fle with Him to New York and Marry—Their Plans for Elopement Complete.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] "CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A woman of Chicago's "underworld" tonight told a story which gives the motive for the daring robbery of the Erskine Bank at Highland Park, Wednesday."

Her recital also furnished the last link in the chain of evidence, which establishes, beyond a reasonable doubt, the identity of the robber as Lamar Harris of Los Angeles. This was the most sensational of a series of sensational developments in the case today. These include positive identification of the man as Harris by a New York woman, who refused to give her name, and the probability of a bitter struggle for the secure funds for the trip to New York.

The New York woman asserts she is his sister, and wants his body. From Los Angeles comes word from his wife and mother that they will take his body there for burial.

The Chicago woman who knew Harris and identified his body today is Ellen Christie. Harris met her soon after his arrival here. He became highly infatuated with her and told her she should leave the life she was following. She told him she would do that gladly if she had any other means of making a living. Then he declared he would take care of her. He promised to marry her and take her to New York. It was the wedding date was set for Saturday. Harris told her that he would take her to New York, where they would spend their honeymoon. He declared that he would install her at his summer home at "Longwood." He even went so far as to make arrangements with a girl friend of Miss Christie, to take her to New York with his wife-to-be. He told Miss Christie and the girl friend that he would leave New York as soon as they arrived there, and go to San Francisco, as he asserted he had some important family business to care for.

The Christie woman was found by a reporter at a fashionable downtown hotel, where she had taken a room to-night under an assumed name, to avoid being dragged into the case. "We were to have been married Saturday," she said. "I had made all arrangements for the wedding, and we were to go to New York on our honeymoon. I was perfectly happy."

"I had known him for about three weeks. I met him in the States restaurant through a girl friend. I do not deny that I have led a wrong life. Lamar was very kind to me. He talked to me for several hours that night, and told me that I was in the wrong. He offered to help me."

He said that his name was Lamar Harrington, and that he was a millionaire. He said that he was at the head of a large furniture establishment in New York, but that his home was in San Francisco. He always had a large amount of money and spent it like water. He always took me to the La Salle Hotel for dinner, and after that we went out to the theaters and afterward to the restaurants. He gave fine parties to his friends, and seemed to have many acquaintances."

"A week after I met him he asked me to marry him. I didn't consent for several days, as I didn't think I was good enough for him, and was afraid his family might object. He was so persistent, however, that I finally consented. We arranged to be married next Saturday in Detroit."

Health and Strength

Restored by the Drugless Cure

The basis of energy in the human body is electricity. All the organs, every function of the body and the health of the individual depend upon the electricity possessed by the nerves; and pain, weakness, dependency, loss of energy and ambition denote a lack of it. If the stomach fails to digest the food, if the nerves are weak, kidneys inactive, or any organ fails to do its work, it can be restored to perfect health by using ELECTRO-THERMO DILATORS. Nature's common-sense HOME treatment for Constipation, Piles, Lumbago, Insomnia, Nervousness, and many complicated ills. Our appliances are sold under a positive guarantee, if after thirty days' trial you are not satisfied, return the appliances and we will refund the purchase price. We feel positive that what we have done for others we can do for you. All we ask is a trial. Try this common-sense Electrical Rectal Dilatation treatment and convince yourself of its merits. Call at our office and examine these appliances. Consultation strictly confidential. If you cannot call, write for free illustrated booklet.

What's the secret?

Many men—after critically inspecting the excellent character of Nicoll's garments—in style—fabric—trimming and workmanship—seem puzzled why there should be such a vast difference in price—between our garments and those of the exclusive tailors.

There's no secret about it. The wider it's known—the better for us.

It's the working together of our many stores throughout the country—our extensive buying power—and based upon a large business and a small profit.

A ROUSING TRIMMED $5 HAT SALE

Here is news of paramount importance to every woman within reach of this store. To those who follow the fashions—and to the economically inclined—it's an opportunity without a parallel in Los Angeles retailing—unprecedented in the Millinery Business of Lower Broadway; $6.50, $7.50 and $8.75 Hats at $5.00—and this at the very threshold of a new season. We want you to understand the offer distinctly:

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MISS CLARA SCOTT was hostess yesterday afternoon at a bridge luncheon and buffet dinner at her home, 228 Second avenue. Miss Marie Marshall, a bride-to-be, was present as "honored guest," and the luncheon was assisted in entertaining by Miss Helen Underhill, Miss Marie Schumann and Miss Lily Olsen. The home was decorated with an artistic profusion of red and white roses which were combined with asparagus plumosus. The guests were Miss and the guests will include Miss Margaret McNeil, Miss Mabel Jones, Miss Ruth Baxter, Miss Marjorie Baxter, Miss Florine Hellman, Miss Grace Bradshaw, Miss Ethel Wilson and Marie Neil.

Evening Wedding.

Miss Lucile Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Milner Dixon of No. 1200 Argus street, was married last evening to Ralph William Stewart, the ceremony taking place at the family home, Rev. William MacCormack officiating. Miss Dixon was a niece of the upward trend of the magazine waist line, the correspondent does not state, but we may draw our own conclusions. We all know that King Edward is not a slyph—any more than our own President Taft is a slyph—edit has gone forth—"waist line up" and all masculine followers of fashion, like children in the game of "Simon says," will accordingly see to it that there is a rise in the waist line of their coats. While this may be somewhat of a compromise with increasing avoirdupois, such should not grin too soon, for simultaneously with this edict from the fountainhead of fashion comes another, which says that coats are worn as tightly fitted as possible—a style most satisfactory for the young and slim, but rather trying to those who have taken on weight with years.

Overcoats Favor Stout Men.

Overcoats, too, there is a distinct tendency to favor the stout of growing stoutness. King Edward is wearing one of these new-cut coats, which is a cross between a long coat and an ulster. "It is not a coat," says a dealer who wants a better name, "it is a coat for the stout." The tailors to the King, who is authority for all these changes in cut, say it is cut to fit smoothly across the shoulders, but with a good deal of spring at the waist, and this is held in place by a buttoned seam. The back, which has fullness, differs from an ulster in that it has three seams. It is a very becoming garment to any man who is inclined to be a bit stout and it is also thoroughly comfortable. It is made of soft-finished velveteen cloth and has a wide shawl collar. The fabric possible. Some of the smartest have almost the weave of camel's hair, so soft and luxurious that it is anything approaching a hard finish is quite out of date.

For automobile coats there is a wonderful selection. Great stuns, plaid in shades of dull greens and browns, that can be gathered up in the hands and folded in a neat package. Most of the plaid are of an invisible variety, all soft-toned, but they go through several shades and are most attractive.

Fivefold Comfort.

I noticed on the top floor of one of our big stores a few days ago, some big, hampered brass boxes with hinges, knobs, wood boxes, it was a pleasure to see them at a figure which would be a necessity for those of us who joy in the comfort of an open wood fire. If one has two or three extra asparagus leaves in her yard, the extra comfort of a tree trunk is quite simplified. By topping these trees each spring and having the wood cut into proper lengths for the fireplace, and piled up in the sun to season through the summer you have the material at hand for heating your home or whatever room you are in. The trees quickly grow again and may be topped annually for another "continuous" wood supply. "Our growing wood pile," says an acquaintance of mine laughingly, "is a year after year, patiently put forth new branches as soon as the old ones are cut off. So, if you can get an open fire, it is quite a matter of economy to cultivate a few eucalyptus trees on your premises."

To return to the matter of wood boxes, I believe, as shoe or shirt boxes, answer the purpose of a wood box. When the cover is down they are convenient as firewood boxes. If you happen to have an old-fashioned board bedstead you can have a handsome seat, with a high back, made of wood, and a few eucalyptus trees on your premises.

REALLY DEVELOPS THE BUST, ARMS AND NECK

An increase of six inches is not unusual after a month's treatment. Go to any drugist and get separately two ounces of glycerine, three ounces of rosewater, one ounce of tincture of cadomene, one ounce of tincture of camomile and one ounce of tincture of lavender. Mix the glycerine and tincture of cadomene, shake and let stand two hours. Then add rosewater and a teaspoonful of borax. Apply morning and night, rubbing until absorbed. Then wash with hot water and soap dry thoroughly. Continue a few weeks and beautiful development rewards the effort.

CONFLICT OVER DUCKS' HAUNT.
PORTERVILLE GAME PRESERVE SUBJECT OF TROUBLE.

Protective Association Which Leased It from San Francisco Man Is Informed by Tulare Cattle Buyer That He Has Prior Rights—Law-suit Is Likely.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
PORTERVILLE, Oct. 13.—H. E. Heitzig, a cattle buyer of Tulare, has served notice on the Porterville Fish and Game Protective Association that he intends to file suit to evict it from its game preserve of six townships, recently leased at Tulare Lake. Heitzig alleges that he has a prior lease. The land was rented from a San Francisco firm by the local club, and a telegram to the city, stating the facts and asking what should be done, resulted in the advice of the club to notify the constable, and if any parties trespassed to have them placed under arrest. The association has spent a considerable sum fitting up a clubhouse on the preserve, and as the membership is composed principally of well-to-do orange ranchers of this section, they intend to fight the case to a finish. Mr. Heitzig has announced the same intention, and long-drawn-out litigation may be expected.

ORANGE PROTECTION.
A. G. Schenk, County Horticultural Commissioner, in company with a number of the leading orange growers of this section, has launched a new association of the orange men, which is expected to accomplish much in the protection of the industry. This association is intended to work in conjunction with the Citrus Protective League, although the membership will be much larger. At present the league only admits members of the exchange, and there are a number of independent growers, as well as those who have orchards not in bearing and owners of nurseries who wish to be members. The first matter to be taken up by the new league will be financing a system of periodical inspection of every orchard in the district. This recent discovery of new and unidentified pests has shown the necessity for this work. The new association will also be pledged to work with the league as regards adequate tariff protection for all the products, and will cooperate regarding railroad rates to the East. The membership will include the growers of Ducor, Terra Bella, Porterville, Lindsay, Strathmore and Exeter.

WELLS BROUGHT IN.
Water has been found in paying quantity in the Fraser Valley section, and several sections of that territory will now be exploited for orange land. The soil and location are ideal, but up to the present time the land has been used only for grazing. Three good wells have been brought in within the past few days, and although the flow was struck at rather greater than the average depth, the water stands high enough in the casing to be lifted economically. This find will place about 2000 additional acres of orange land upon the market, and will be a valuable acquisition to the district.

Several hundred dollars' damage was done to the main wheat warehouse in the Terra Bella district day before yesterday, when an overloaded floor gave way and the building collapsed. Lemon shipments consigned to local dealers were intercepted today at the express offices by horticultural inspectors, and were ordered returned to the shippers in San Francisco. Every lemon in the consignment was infected with scale, and so badly was the fruit diseased that it was considered dangerous to market it, even after the usual scrubbing.

A scale, which is considered especially deadly in this climate, was in evidence.

A Great Discovery
Certain Ingredients That Really Grow Hair Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp. These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair; even though the scalp is in spots or bare of hair. If there is any itching left in the roots it will positively cure baldness. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in every other instance baldness is curable.

We want everyone troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic. It does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user; we will not return your money or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent. of cases where it has been used. Rexall's "33" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike any in every particular better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; Seattle, Wash.

What Hart, Schaffner & Marx Have to Say About the Clothes They Make For Us

ONE fact about our clothes makes them quite unusual; they're made of all-wool fabrics, exclusively. We test our fabrics thoroughly, and reject any that show the smallest trace of cotton.

This is the greater distinction, because at least ninety per cent. of the clothing made in this country, outside of ours, has more or less cotton in it; some of it all-cotton.

The trouble is, the skill in producing these cotton mixtures is so great that they look a good deal like all-wool, and you'll probably pay an all-wool price for them.

If that's what you want, there's nothing more to be said. If it isn't, you must be particular in buying. There's no way to tell cotton from all-wool except by chemical test; but if you find our name in clothes, you don't need any test.

All-wool costs more than part cotton; it's worth more. You ought to pay not less than $20 for a suit or overcoat; if you want to be sure of all-wool, you'd better. From that up to $30 or $40. Our clothes are worth the price. For sale by

BRADFORD'S IMPROVED BREAD
BRADFORD BAKING CO.
401-3-5 N. W. 2
LOS ANGELES

Other bread that is sold in Los Angeles. This is the proof that is offered in the of its making.

Hand-kneading, like you do in your own home kitchen, is largely responsible for the fine, perfect texture of Bradford's Bread. Just notice how much nicer it cuts—how much less it crumbles—and how much longer it retains its softness than machine-kneaded bread.

And the Bradford sanitary dust-proof ovens further safeguard the cleanliness of the bread. The ovens are all heated the required temperature, and the powerful oil flame (by which they are heated) is turned off before the bread goes in. This accounts for the evenness of the baking, and the golden-brown crust of Bradford's Bread.

As soon as the bread is sufficiently cooled, after it comes from the ovens, it is sealed in sanitary, dust-proof and moisture-proof wrappers which protect it from exposure to clean hands, dust, dirt and germs, and bring it to your table with all its original purity and cleanliness.

Satisfied to serve at your table any other

Knowing these vital facts, can you be satisfied to serve at your table any other than Bradford's Bread? Live grocers sell it.

Another Step Taken Toward Municipal Water.

Five Expert Witnesses Are Heard About Horse.

FIN AT REUNION.

The All Saints Men's Club held a reunion last night in the parish house after the summer vacation. The social program was preceded by a short business session at which it was decided to have the annual meeting and banquet, November 11.

The program was: Piano solo, P. S. Stalder; vocal solo, Arthur E. Wyatt; recitation, Robert Scott; comic songs, Myrtle Manning; stereophonic music, Runyon and Chanin; barnyard imitations, Col. Perry Keweenaw; auction, Guy R. Crump.

MUNICIPAL WATER.

Prospects for municipal ownership of city water were looked over yesterday. The city wants to buy the property of the three companies if the price is right. A proposition was made a year ago but at the time the city was short of the required two-thirds.

The city has made another offer. It has agreed to pay the same price as a year ago plus the cost of the actual improvements made during the past year.

The Pasadena Land and Water Company, and the North Pasadena Land and Water Company have held directors' meetings, and will call the stockholders together to agree to sell to the city. The Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company held a directors' meeting yesterday, but did not decide on a date for a stockholders' meeting. It is thought this company will agree to the city's terms.

HORSE SESSION.

Justice Klenzner held an all-day session at his courtroom yesterday to determine whether F. E. Purcell's old horse is lame or not. Twenty witnesses were called, including five veterinary surgeons. Their testimony differed materially, as to the age of the old horse. Some of the witnesses stated the animal was as frisky as a two-year-old, and in good condition for driving, while others said it was a fit subject for the bone yard.

Purcell was arrested for renting the horse to two negroes, Holmes and Taylor, and the latter were arrested for driving the horse when it was lame. The jury was out for a long time and finally rendered a decision of not guilty for all three men, but recommended that the old horse be turned out into a pasture field.

BERGER-WATERS.

The marriage of Martin J. Berger and Miss Elsie Waters, both of Pasadena, took place at St. Andrew's Church yesterday morning. Rev. Father O'Rourke officiating. Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Waters, father and mother of the bride, held a reception at their home, No. 53 Valley street. Many out-of-town guests were in attendance.

CAR HITS BUGGY.

An Oak Knoll car crashed into a buggy in which John Keatly and A. H. France were riding, at the corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks avenue, yesterday afternoon, ripping off the hind wheels of the vehicle. Fortunately the horses stopped and no further damage was done.

BACK FROM CANADA.

The members of the Presbyterian church gave a rousing reception to Rev. Malcolm James McLeod last night on his return from a two months' vacation in Canada.

The members of the First Congregational Church have received a letter from Rev. Dr. Daniel F. Fox of Chicago, who was recently elected pastor. He states that he will arrive about December 1, and will preach his first sermon on December 5.

GETS VALUABLE GIFT.

Pomona College Receives Collection of Four Thousand Publications. Elks Are Hosts.

POMONA, Oct. 14.—Dr. A. J. Cook, head of the biological department of Pomona College, and Prof. Carl F. Baker, of the department of zoology, have just presented to the college a valuable collection of biological publications, pamphlets and books numbering 4000 volumes and valued at $100. The books comprise the private scientific collections of the donors, who spent years in selecting their libraries, which comprise many rare and valuable works. A while ago Prof. Baker, who is a brother of Ray Stanford Baker, the magazine writer, presented to the college his private entomological collection of rare specimens, valued at $15,000, which he had secured in this country and abroad. Dr. Cook also gave the college his private collection of specimens valued at $400. Pomona College now has a particularly well-equipped department of biology.

The first of a series of dances by the local lodge of Elks occurred last night at the clubhouse on East Holt avenue. The Blanchard-Schoneham Orchestra of Los Angeles furnished music.

The old corrugated iron building, which stood so long on East Second street, adjoining the State Bank and Trust Company's new quarters, is being wrecked. E. F. Caldwell having purchased it.

ANXIOUS TO JOIN.

Public Meeting at Huntington Park Favors Consolidation With Los Angeles.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 14.—A meeting was held in the City Hall last night to discuss the question of annexation with Los Angeles. The hall was packed to the doors with a large enthusiastic crowd.

City Attorney Hewitt of Los Angeles addressed the meeting and was received with loud cheers. Committees were appointed from Miramonte, Florence and Huntington Park to canvass their respective districts and report the result at the next meeting, to be held some time next week.

A vote of thanks was given to Hewitt. Dr. John S. Miller was chairman and James Miller acted as secretary.

DOPED?

GIRL SAYS MAN DRUGGED HER.

ASSERTS SHE WAS UNCONSCIOUS SEVERAL HOURS.

Young Woman of Fifteen Who Ran Away from Home to Redondo Beach With Man Twice Her Age Tells Terrible Story—Court Held in Bedroom Where She Lies Ill.

REDDONDO BEACH, Oct. 14.—At the bedside of Pearl Wood, at the home of her mother, the court heard the testimony of the child this afternoon against Joseph Hatfield, charged with rape. Pearl is seriously ill from the effects of a dose supposed to have been given her by Hatfield, the man with whom she ran away from her home in Sepe, Monday.

She says that, after arriving at the rooming-house here, she was induced by the man to drink some liquor and was then unconscious for many hours. Among the witnesses in the preliminary hearing today were Dr. S. J. Quint of the Los Angeles Receiving Hospital, where the girl was taken yesterday, for an examination. Dr. Quint's testimony practically convicted Hatfield.

Judge Wells after hearing the evidence, found the prisoner over to the superior court on a bail of $3000.

The child's grandfather, W. E. Wood, arrived here from Sepe, and attempted suicide here this afternoon or accidentally fell off the wharf is debatable.

Dr. Hinkley insists that he tried to commit suicide because he is tired of life. Thomas Lange, who saw Hinkley fall into the channel and pulled him out of the water, is inclined to believe that he merely lost his balance and tumbled in while sitting on the top of a pile.

The fact that he got wet and that if drunk was sobered up by the cold water is not debatable. When fished out of the water, he was very sober, and very grateful. It was only after he had taken those who helped pull him out up to the nearest saloon and indulged in a few social drinks with them, that the suicide theory was advanced. The doubts again arose as to his sobriety.

Dr. Hinkley came over from Long Beach in a launch. He seemed to exaggerate the narrow gap plank with considerable difficulty and had some trouble in mounting the top of the nearest pile on the wharf.

Dr. Hinkley has been property manager for Dr. Bulgin ever since his conversion about five years ago, at one of Bulgin's meetings. He was at one time an official in the United States Treasury Department and commanded a "high salary. Drink caused his downfall, but since his conversion, as far as known by those here acquainted with him, he has not been a drinking man.

The prisoner says his name is William Chapman, and that he is 22 years of age and a native of Australia. He has a mother living in Oakland. Chapman says only once was he in danger, and that was at the residence of Dr. Campbell, on West Third street, the doctor surprising him as he was leaving the house.

When his ship came into port, Chapman was taken to headquarters and searched. In his pockets was a handful of rings and other jewelry and a visiting card belonging to Dr. Cook. The prisoner confessed, but insisted that it was his first job, until the Chief noticed he was wearing a handsome tailored shirt, stolen from the residence of Jean Drake, secretary of the bath-house company, two months ago. Then Chapman confessed all the jobs of housebreaking which have so mystified the police.

Then Chapman confessed all the jobs of housebreaking which have so mystified the police.

The prisoner says his name is William Chapman, and that he is 22 years of age and a native of Australia. He has a mother living in Oakland. Chapman says only once was he in danger, and that was at the residence of Dr. Campbell, on West Third street, the doctor surprising him as he was leaving the house.

When his ship came into port, Chapman was taken to headquarters and searched. In his pockets was a handful of rings and other jewelry and a visiting card belonging to Dr. Cook. The prisoner confessed, but insisted that it was his first job, until the Chief noticed he was wearing a handsome tailored shirt, stolen from the residence of Jean Drake, secretary of the bath-house company, two months ago. Then Chapman confessed all the jobs of housebreaking which have so mystified the police.
